My name is Marina and I am a children's illustrator

I studied biology and have worked for many years as a teacher. It is not surprising that my illustrations have a strong inspiration in nature and childhood.

I really enjoy using traditional techniques and getting my hands dirty. Then, I transfer what I have learned to digital art, giving it a warm and organic finish.

My drawing style has evolved a lot with different influences and I have ended up with my own style of children's illustration with which I feel very comfortable to design characters and tell stories.
